I hope you had and enjoyable summer and this newsletter finds you doing well. Things continue to go well with the ATP. We concluded another successful year and are looking forward to the upcoming one. Our student numbers continue to hold strong and the ATP is still sought out by students. We admitted 17 students who will be joining us for the fall 2019 semester. We graduated 15 students in May. Our graduates continue to do well on the BOC exam and in finding positions. 13 of the 15 students challenged the BOC examination and passed on their first attempt. You will find more information on the 2019 graduates later in the newsletter.

Each year, programs receive an “Individual School Report” from the BOC, which provides information on students’ performance on the BOC examination. The reporting period is April to April. We are proud to report that our students’ first-time passing rate was 100% (5/5) for the reporting period. The national average was 77% for the same period. Our students’ average scores surpassed the national averages in four of the five domains and was only two points lower in the 5th domain.

Our students continue to receive honors and awards and are serving the profession in a variety of capacities. LATSA, our student organization, is still going strong. It continues to support and raise funds for the Tina Bonci Excellence in Athletic Training Scholarship and other scholarships. LATSA members also continue their volunteer efforts and are giving back to the community in various ways. You will find more information on later pages.

As you know, the NATA’s Strategic Alliance (NATA, BOC, CAATE, NATA Foundation) has decided that the minimum degree to sit for the BOC examination in the future will be a master’s degree. Programs cannot admit undergraduate students into an ATP after the fall of 2022. We are unsure as to when we will try to make the transition to the graduate ATP. We are currently looking at our options and developing plans for various scenarios, but plan to continue offering a baccalaureate degree for the near future. Keep recommending our program to potential students.

The Charlie Craven Endowed Excellence Fund was created by the Department of Kinesiology and Health Education upon Craven’s retirement from teaching in 2008 to recognize his dedication and contributions to UT. In line with Craven’s tremendous backing for the athletic training student program, he requested that the Endowment be used to support the ATP. The Craven Fund supports the athletic training students and faculty by helping us purchase state of the art equipment and supplies for the ATP’s teaching lab. Equipment such as medical simulators, therapeutic modalities, assessment equipment, therapeutic exercise equipment, and emergency equipment is needed in order to teach the ATP students the knowledge and skills necessary to provide care to their athletes and patients. The Fund will also help us attend workshops and host educational events of our own.

Visit this link for a video on the Craven fund that was made for the HornRaiser campaign. While the fund is officially endowed, fundraising is not done. The more money we raise, the more the fund contributes to the ATP. If you are interested in donating to the Craven Fund, please visit here. Alternatively, you may send a check or money order to:

Make check or money order payable to UT and Note “Craven Excellence Fund” on the memo line or include a note stating the donation is for the Craven Excellence Fund.

The Bonci fund was created in 2014 to honor the life and career of Tina Bonci. The fund has been used to award a scholarship annually to an athletic training student that exemplifies the characteristics that Tina portrayed. Characteristics like commitment to one’s education and service to UT and the athletic training profession. Recipients have used the scholarship to support their studies at UT and in graduate school. To financially support the fund, LATSA hosts the annual Chasing Excellence 5K. Please watch this video to learn more about the event. (note that dates are for past year’s race).

While we recently raised enough money to endow the fund, the larger the fund’s balance, the more we can use to support the ATP and students. You can support the Bonci Fund with a donation and/or pledge by visiting this link.

Please note that there is a Tina Bonci Sports Medicine Endowment Fund with The Longhorn Foundation and UT Athletics. Feel free to contribute to that endowment to support UT Athletics also. However, the ATP does not receive funds from that endowment nor does that money go towards the ATP. The only way to donate to the Bonci Fund that supports ATP students is to follow the instructions to donate described above.

Corey Hannah (Clinical Education Coordinator), Henry Petersen ('19), Alexis Maxie ('19), Ann-Marie Keller ('19), Teddi Andreas ('19), Tam Nguyen ('19), Ed Williams ('19), and Erin Backus ('19) presented at UT’s inaugural Health Showcase alongside faculty and students from UT’s Dell Medical School, School of Nursing, College of Pharmacy, and School of Social Work. The showcase was hosted by UT’s Center for Health Interprofessional Practice and Education.

Hannah teamed up with faculty from Nutritional Science, Pharmacy, and Nursing to discuss disordered eating in athletes while the students performed poster presentations on a variety of topics.

T. Andreas – Pregnancy in Elite Athletes

A. Maxie - Reality of Care for the Female Triad in a Collegiate Level Distance Runner

E. Backus - The Effects of Role Strain on Feelings of Burnout in Athletic Trainers Serving as Healthcare Providers and Medical Liaisons
Health Showcase

The event provided a forum for students to present health-related projects in one of three categories: community engagement, quality improvement, and research. Faculty teams led mini-workshops throughout the event allowing attendees to take a quick dive into health-related topics through an interprofessional lens.

The Center for Health IPE invited undergraduate, graduate, and professional students in health-related fields to submit abstracts. Over 70 students presented their posters and represent programs across the university and other Texas higher education institutions, including nursing, medicine, fine arts, pharmacy, education, athletic training, audiology, business, social work, public health, and engineering.

A. Keller - Recognizing Hyperthyroidism in Collegiate Level Athletes

E. Williams - Gait abnormalities in patients with ankylosing spondylitis: a literature review

T. Nguyen - Interprofessional Collaboration Advancing Patient Safety Program: A Long Jump to Osteoid Osteoma

H. Petersen - Non-surgical Treatment of Midcarpal Instability in a Professional Athlete
Sports Medicine Camp

We hosted the 18th annual Longhorns Sports Medicine Camp June 21-24. More than 130 high school students from all over the country attended the camp. Please encourage high school students to attend the camp to learn about athletic training, UT’s ATP, and UT.
