The Year in Pictures..............19–21
I hope you had an enjoyable summer and this newsletter finds you doing well. Things continue to go well with the ATP. We concluded another successful year and are looking forward to the upcoming one. Our student numbers continue to hold strong and the ATP is still sought out by students. We admitted 19 students who will be joining us for the fall 2018 semester. We graduated 8 students in May. Our graduates continue to do well on the BOC exam and in finding positions. 5 of the 8 students challenged the BOC examination and all passed on their first attempt. You will find more information on the 2018 graduates later in the newsletter.

Each year, programs receive an “Individual School Report” from the BOC, which provides information on students’ performance on the BOC examination. The reporting period is April to April. We are proud to report that our students’ first time passing rate was 100% (14/14) for the reporting period. The national average was only 80% for the same period. Our students’ average scores equaled or surpassed the national averages in all five domains.

Our students continue to receive honors and awards and are serving the profession in a variety of capacities. LATSA, our student organization, is still going strong. It continues to support and raise funds for the Tina Bonci Excellence in Athletic Training Scholarship and other scholarships. LATSA members also continue their volunteer efforts and are giving back to the community in various ways. You will find more information on later pages.

While being a stand-alone major, the ATP has been part of the Exercise Science program in the Department of Kinesiology and Health Education. The Exercise Science program recently split into two programs, Exercise Physiology and Rehabilitation and Movement Science (RMS). The ATP will now be a part of the newly formed RMS program. The RMS program focuses on graduate programs and combines the traditional fields of biomechanics, motor development, motor control and learning, and neuromuscular function. This program examines multidisciplinary aspects of how people move in a variety of settings, including clinical applications, elite performance, and typical changes related to development and aging. The RMS curriculum is designed to support students interested in pursuing careers in the allied health sciences.

The ATP entered an affiliation agreement with the Texas Stars hockey team, the AHL affiliate for the Dallas Stars, for the 2018-19 academic year. This will provide students with unique experiences in both a professional sport and the sport of ice hockey. We also expect to enter affiliation agreements with Austin Travis Count EMS and Dell Medical School’s Musculoskeletal Institute in the near future. These affiliated sites will add to those of UT Athletics, two physician clinics, a DIII college, and several area high schools.

As you know, the NATA’s Strategic Alliance (NATA, BOC, CAATE, NATA Foundation) has decided that the minimum degree to sit for the BOC examination in the future will be a master’s degree. Programs cannot admit undergraduate students into an ATP after the fall of 2022. We are unsure as to when we will try to make the transition to the graduate ATP. We are currently looking at our options and developing plans for various scenarios, but plan to continue offering a baccalaureate degree for the near future. Keep recommending our program to potential students.
What starts here changes the world.

Class of 2018
We are proud to announce that we raised the required funds to endow the Charlie “Doc” Craven Excellence Fund. We made the final push with the HornRaiser effort this spring where we received 111 donations for $12,500. The $12,500 was added to our previous fundraising efforts of nearly $15,000. We are proud that most of the money was donated by AT alumni, family and friends. This was truly a grassroots effort.

The Charlie Craven Endowed Excellence Fund was created by KHE upon Craven’s retirement from teaching in 2008 to recognize his dedication and contributions to UT. In line with Craven’s tremendous backing for the athletic training student program, he requested that the Endowment be used to support the ATP. The Craven Fund will support the athletic training students and faculty by helping us purchase state of the art equipment and supplies for the ATP’s teaching lab. Equipment such as medical simulators, therapeutic modalities, assessment equipment, therapeutic exercise equipment, and emergency equipment is needed in order to teach the ATP students the knowledge and skills necessary to provide care to their athletes and patients. The Fund will also help us attend workshops and host educational events of our own.

Visit this link for a video on the Craven fund that was made for the HornRaiser campaign. While the fund is officially endowed, fundraising is not done. The more money we raise, the more the fund contributes to the ATP. If you are interested in donating to the Craven Fund, please visit here. Alternatively, you may send a check or money order to:

LATSA
Make check or money order payable to LATSA Note “Craven Excellence Fund” on the memo line or include a note stating the donation is for the Craven Excellence Fund.

A special “thank you” goes out to Aliki Pappas, Rob Brown, Jake Villarreal, Hank Petersen, Christine Falk, and Corey Hannah for working on the HornRaiser project.

Tina Bonci Excellence in Athletic Training Scholarship

We are also proud to announce that the Tina Bonci Fund has also been endowed. The majority of the funds came from profits from the LATSA Chasing Excellence 5K with some also coming from outright donations during an intense campaign to raise the remaining funds. Again, alumni, family and friends stepped up and we reached our goal.

The Bonci fund was created in 2014 to honor the life and career of Tina Bonci. The fund has been used to award a scholarship annually to an athletic training student that exemplifies the characteristics that Tina portrayed. Characteristics like commitment to one’s education and service to UT and the athletic training profession. Recipients have used the scholarship to support their studies at UT and in graduate school. To financially support the fund, LATSA hosts the annual Chasing Excellence 5K. Please watch this video to learn more about the event. (note that dates are for past year’s race).

While we recently raised enough money to endow the fund, the larger the fund’s balance, the more we can use to support the ATP and students. You can support the Bonci Fund with a donation and/or pledge by visiting this link.

Note “Bonci Scholarship” on the memo line or include a note stating the donation is for the Bonci Scholarship.

Please note that there is a Tina Bonci Sports Medicine Endowment Fund with The Longhorn Foundation and UT Athletics. Feel free to contribute to that endowment to support UT Athletics also. However, the ATP does not receive funds from that endowment nor does that money go towards the ATP. The only way to donate to the Bonci Fund that supports ATP students is to follow the instructions to donate described above.
