What: High School Sunday events include an educational workshop conducted by members of the Longhorn Athletic Training Student Association (LATSA), a presentation on UT’s ATP, and a tour of some of UT’s Athletics’ facilities. This is an excellent opportunity for high school students to learn about UT’s Athletic Training Program, meet some of our students, staff, and faculty, and take a self-guided tour around campus. Please encourage your students to attend, especially if they are interested in UT’s Athletic Training Program. While the day’s activities are geared towards the high school student, parents and staff athletic trainers are also welcome.

A professional workshop will also be offered to credentialed athletic trainers. Please see the separate flyer for additional information on the professional workshop.
